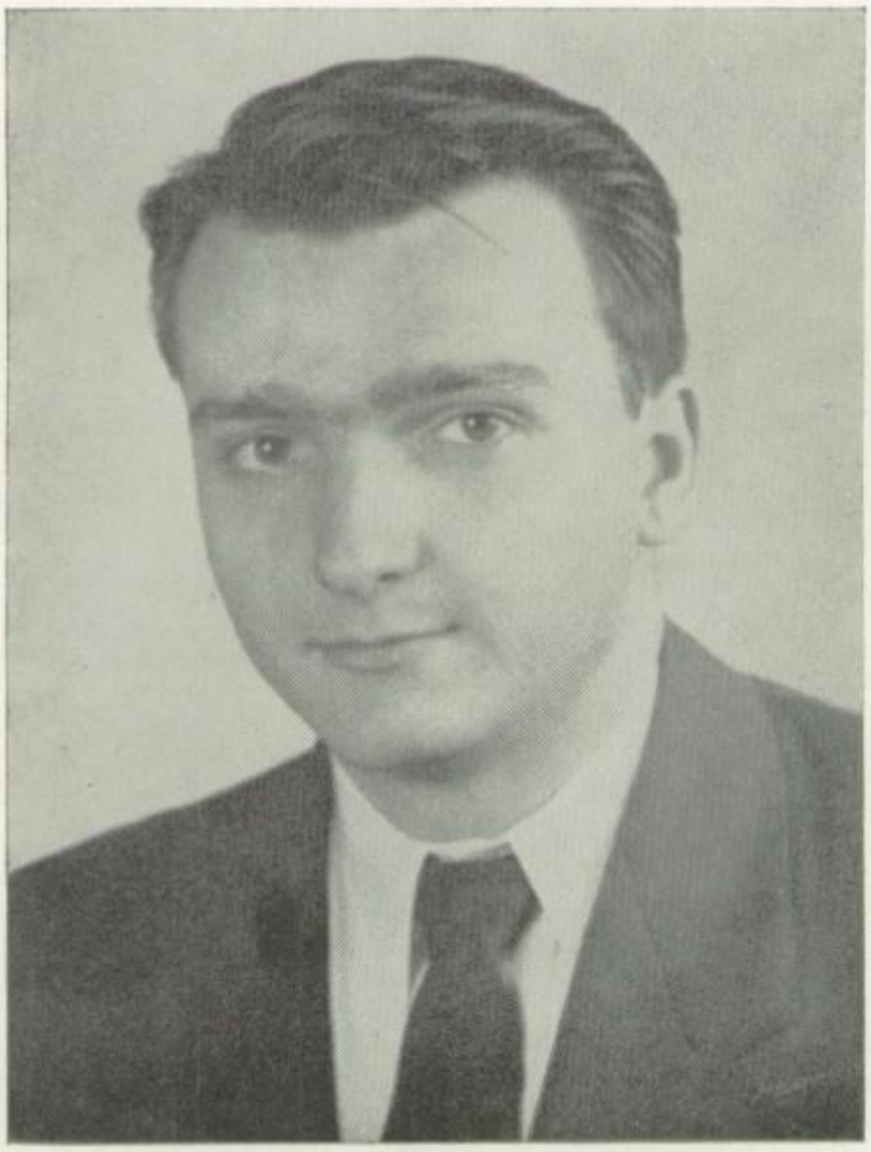
The Foreword

In sincere appreciation to the many who have helped, guided, counseled, and understood us through our school days, we, the class of 1956—the fiftieth class to graduate from Oley High School—present "Our Golden Tree" as our fitting and proper theme.

What is more beautiful than a tree? Our golden tree. The school and life are the tree of knowledge. We have obtained our educational guidance from its roots, our faculty. Without the ever-friendly companionship of our underclassmen—the twigs—who are ready to support life in the future, we—the branches—could not have succeeded. Our happiest days were those filled with unforgettable school activities, the blossoms on our tree.

We, the graduating class, will do our part to keep each branch of our golden tree growing and to contribute in our own ways to a friendly and peaceful world.



Dedication

We, the class of 1956, wish to dedicate this "Olean" to Mr. Fred P. Brightbill, our mathematics instructor. During the past years and in the present, his inspiring, cheerful guidance has been greatly appreciated by every student. As advisor for the school newspaper and many different classes, his work has greatly excelled that which is required. We know he will use wise judgment in guiding many other pupils in the future.

THE

Alma Mater

We sing to Oley High School,
Noble and strong.
To thee with loyal hearts,
We raise our song.
May your spirits never die,
Nor your walls decay.
We will sing our praises,
Through endless days.

We make for thee a crown,
Rest on thy brow
Pride, honor, glory, love
Before thee bow.
Swelling to Heaven's high
Our praises ring.
Pray that Oley High School
Survives all things.

School Board

TO THE CLASS OF 1956:

We, the Board of Directors, wish to extend to each one graduating sincere congratulations.

To graduate from high school you are honored with a degree or diploma as an indication of successful completion of study courses required. For many of you this may be a final degree, while others may seek higher degrees of graduation. Either way graduation is a reflection of the past days and years of school life. It really is the beginning of your daily living on your own efforts building your future years.

Our aims and efforts as your directors were to better prepare you and plan for your future. We trust we have not failed you.

Wherever your ambitions in life may lead you, may you continue to work and to learn so that you will be a credit to society.

To the Class of 1956:

Your school, teachers, parents and friends have helped you develop understandings, experiences and acquaintances with facts and ideals in order that you may become enthusiastically familiar and conversant with your world, your fellowman, and yourself. This knowledge truly can be termed a key stone, located at a corner, uniting two walls—a main block in your life's foundation—an actual starting point of fundamental importance toward the successful termination of your attempts or endeavors to build your life's edifice. Through your past successful performances and achievements, you have begun building your future success. We congratulate you on the stable foundation you've built and wish you continued success and full realization of whatever goals you may determine are yours.

Many people are needed to assist in helping to have a school function properly—students, teachers, and friends alike. But the people behind the scenes, our school secretary, school nurse, custodians, and cooks also do a very efficient job.

These friendly people are known by all—for their work and welcome smiles. Miss Reichert, the secretary, takes care of the school records, school correspondence, and innumerable other details. The duties of the school nurse include administering medical aid and keeping the health records of each student. The custodians cheerfully continue to keep our school clean, warm, and in wonderful condition. In the morning and at noon the work of our cooking staff is evident by the aromas of that day's lunch.

To my Classmates:

It has been a pleasure to work with a group as friendly and co-operative as you have been in the past four years. I wish to express my gratitude for all the help you have given me; without it our class could not have reached the high plane of success which it has.

As graduation approaches, we look back on our many carefree days. On the night of graduation each and everyone of us will be on the threshold of the vast, unknown future.

Whatever you may do in life, I wish you all the success possible. May God bless you with the best of luck, health, and happiness. I shall never forget you or our happy school days at Oley High School.

A Glimpse Beyond The Branches

In the year 1966 a wise old prophet, from his heavenly perch, looks down upon the branches of the "Golden Tree" that have spread all over the world in their various careers.

Still in Oley he sees the Schaeffer Plumbing and Heating Company rapidly progressing under the ownership of Ronald Schaeffer. Ronald has just returned from doing plumbing work at Elmer Eyrich's farm. Elmer has also chosen to make his home in Oley. He has just been visited by Benjamin Fox, who is a County Agriculture Agent visiting the farmers of the Oley Valley.

A few other branches of the "Golden Tree" now live in Reading. Nancy Sassaman, a staff nurse at Reading Hospital, has just finished bandaging Clarence Yenser's hand. He was injured while repairing a car at Golden Brothers Garage, where he is a mechanic. When he injured his hand Clarence was working on a car owned by Richard Reppert. Richard works as a foreman for Carpenter Steel.

If you use a telephone in Philadelphia, you might hear the voice of Lorraine Dunn, who transmits calls at branch office of the Bell Telephone Company. On her lunch hour she meets June Flatt in a restaurant. June tells Lorraine all about the modeling she has been doing on weekends while working as a secretary for a Philadelphia firm during the week. Lorraine just remembers she promised to call her sister, Judy, who is a technician in the research laboratories of John Hopkins Medical Center.

At a sports banquet in New York, the prophet sees Paul Strunk, a pitcher for the Brooklyn Dodgers, the center of attention. William Stapleton, a well-liked athletic director at Columbia University, is also an honored guest. Standing by with a pencil and pad is Vivian Moser, who is interviewing her former classmates. She is a reporter for the New York Times.

When the prophet looks down on Chicago, he sees Betty Ann Kerschner, a social worker, in the office of Leonard Von Hohen, asking if he will provide jobs for some of the unemployed. Leonard is the vice-president of a chain of department stores which have spread throughout the country. He will gladly provide jobs for qualified persons. Helping Betty Ann with all her work for the community is Erma Angstadt, who is a private nurse in the Chicago area.

In Maine farmers have gathered to discuss the art of growing potatoes. Among these farmers is Frederick Eyrich, from the Oley Valley. He has won the state award for the best potatoes. While Mary Fox, the chairman's secretary, gets ready to write the mintues of the meeting, the chairman calls the meeting to order.

Down in sunny Florida at a big resort Dr. Temple Critchfield is spending her summer vacation. She has become a quite famous medical doctor. Vacationing with her is Jeannette Reinhart, her medical secretary for the last seven years. When they go out for the evening, they meet Jean Breidegam, who plays in the dance band at a night club in Miami. She has toured the whole United States with the band.

Out in Detroit several of the branches of the golden tree are working for the Ford Motor Company.

Head mechanic Charles Minnich is talking to Stroud, the automotive engineer at the proving grounds. Sitting in the driver's seat of the test car is Jan Hoffman, the test car driver for the company. He will make the first test of the 1966 Ford.

On a big dairy farm in Wisconsin, the prophet sees Shirley Engleman going through the dairy. She is being shown around the farm by the owner, Herbert Hoffman. Shirley has married a millionaire and is touring the whole world with her husband.

Out West there is a lineman high on a telephone pole. He is Carl Pennypacker, who someday hopes to have a ranch of his own. He is working in Texas so he can keep his eye on the horses. In the state of Arizona Jane Weidner is operating her own dude ranch and continuing her music as a side line.

In Paris two WAVES, Barbara Hassler and Jackie La Pearl, are just entering the dress shop of a famous designer, Gerald Yoder. Barbara and Jackie have come to order dresses to wear to a formal dance for service personnel. Gerald calls his seamstress, Ruth Ann Cronrath, to measure the girls for their dresses.

Across the world Captain Charles Graul, of the United States Air Force in Germany, is going over his work for the day. Charles had decided to make a career of the air force. His First Lieutenant, Kenneth Lorah, comes to his office to go over the reports of the day. From a neighboring base an Air Force nurse comes to see Captain Graul in reference to a transfer. This little nurse, Marlene Reinert, has joined the service to see the world.

The prophet concludes that the branches of the "Golden Tree" have contributed to world progress.

Class of '57

Glancing toward the Junior Class, we see them eagerly anticipating the turn of the hour which will designate the start of their television program, "Super Playhouse."

Showing Shirley Conrad, Marie and Doris to their seats is Shirley Rathje. Geraldine has just begun to brief the audience on the routine of the program, while Carl, the director, is giving the announcer, Mike, final instructions. The sponsor of the program, Myrt, is showing Barbara how to demonstrate the sewing machine in the advertisement.

The cameramen, Thomas Franke, Kenny Snyder, and Robert Endy, are making adjustments to their cameras. Kenny Schittler, assistant director, is telling the prompter, Shirley Moyer, exactly what to do. Prop-manager, Allan, is advising the stage crew—Franklin, Tommy Hartline, and Lee—where to place all the scenery.

Backstage the costumes for the performers—Rodney, Ronald, Gretchen, Sevilla, and Elaine—are being carefully examined by Joanne, the costume director. In a dressing room, make-up is being put on Carol, Eleanor, Arlene, and June, who are to sing in the play. Pat and Malcolm are the make-up artists.

To the class of '57 we wish success in this and every undertaking.

To the Class of '56:

Thank you for the co-operation and patience you have shown us. We hope you achieve the goals in life that you have set for yourselves.

Your school spirit, sportsmanship, and conduct have been of the highest caliber. Your high ideals are but another in the long list of assets you possess. Your class has shown outstanding leadership to the classes following in your footsteps.

On behalf of the entire student body, may I extend my wish that each of you be successful in his chosen field.

Boys' Basketball

In addition to other means of recreation and sport, Oley High School has three basketball teams for the boys—the pony, the junior varsity, and the varsity.

The Pony Team, composed of seventh and eighth grades, is directed by Mr. Brightbill and is taught the fundamentals of basketball and how to work together as a team with good sportsmanship. In preparation for the ten games of the season, the team practiced every Monday after school.

The Junior Varsity Team, under the supervision of Mr. Kramer, is trained and developed for the varsity team. The ninth and tenth grade boys practiced four nights a week for the nineteen games.

Like the other basketball teams, the boys of the Varsity Team must be physically fit, passing three major subjects, and capable of working with others. Mr. Knabb, varsity coach, instructed the boys at practices four nights a week. The team played twenty games this season.

The aim of all our teams is to "inspire good sportsmanship, practice teamwork, and win the game."

Fight, Team, Fight!---- Of course you remember this little pep talk shouted by the Lynx boosters at the basketball games. The girls, in their blue and white uniforms, lead all the cheers and stimulate school spirit. Many of their free periods and lunch hours are given up to practice. For their faithful service each cheerleader receives a letter.

Band

Again Mr. James Wells has directed the O. H. S. musicians through a successful season. The band made its first appearance this year at the annual Oley Valley Community Fair. It appeared in the Halloween Parade, Memorial Day Parade, and various others. It provided music for several assemblies and participated in the Oley Night of Music.

Orchestra

Under the direction of Mr. Wells, the orchestra provided music for various assemblies and the Senior Class Play and performed extensively and well in the Night of Music. They also received a "Superior" rating when they traveled to York for state competition. Several members participated in county and district orchestras.

Coin Club

The coin club, a fairly recent organization, gathers a collection of old and sometimes rare coins. The members meet every other Friday during the regular club period, at which they discuss the coins collected. They then trade their various coins in order that each person may have a more complete collection.

Camera Club

The Oley School Camera Club was organized for a two-fold purpose: assisting in the improvement, the operation, and the enlarging of the Visual Aid Department, and giving the club members the fundamentals and opportunities for self-expression in photography by selecting, taking, and developing of pictures.

"Willies Weekend"

From the fourteen members of Student Council, the officers were chosen at a special election, complete with an election board, judge of elections, official ballots and voting booths. The council has chosen as this year's project the purchasing of another floor microphone and the beginning of a record collection to be used at various dances.

In Honor of the First Class

LEFT: Miss Stahr at the time she graduated from Oley High. RIGHT: Miss Stahr and Mrs. French on the twenty-fifth anniversary of their graduation.

Class Of 1907

Fifty years ago, the first class graduated from Oley High School. Looking back today, we see that it was not only the first class, but also the smallest. There were two members in the class of 1907—Camilla B. Stahr and Helen Bertolet.

Their principal and only teacher was the late C. Waldo S. Leinbach. Classes which the two girls attended were held in the former Oley Academy. Since their graduation, the Oley Academy has been used for a garage and recently has been remodeled for use by the Oley Fire Company.

No clubs other than a literary society were found in the school. Today students attending Oley High School have a variety of clubs to choose from. Every student can join a club that is of interest to him. The fine gymnasium which we have today would have been a welcome addition to the Oley Schools when the girls attended, for they had no athletic training whatsoever. Students today who complain about the lack of social life should have attended school in 1907 when there was no social life.

Even though commencement exercises have changed greatly since then, they must have been as thrilling to the first class as they have been to all the classes since. Previous to the commencement exercises, there was no baccalaureate service. The two graduates were responsible for the entire commencement program—topics were assigned and essays were written, which were given at the commencement exercises. No music course was offered in school; however, each of the girls rendered a musical selection. Graduation exercises today seem rather lengthy compared to the commencement of the Class of 1907.

The members of the Class of 1907 have engaged in many interesting activities since their school days.

Camilla B. Stahr graduated from Wilson College in 1911 with an A. B. Degree. She spent an interesting and educational year from 1911-1912 as an assistant in German at Wilson College and a summer doing clerical work at this college. During the years from 1912 to 1938, Miss Stahr enjoyed living at home in Oley. Being a lover of the outdoors, she served as counselor and co-director at Camp Ohe, in Oxford, Maine. From 1932-1938, she was preceptress of Glenwood Hall at Ursinus College. During the summer of 1938 she had the privilege of a foreign tour and studying at Oxford University.

In 1938, Miss Stahr became Dean of Women at Ursinus College, Collegeville, where she is engaged today. She is member of several organizations; the American Association of University Women and Pennsylvania Association of Deans of Women. For several years, she has been president of the Women's Missionary Society of Trinity Reformed Church, Collegeville.

The second member of the class, Helen Bertolet French, graduated from Albright College. Mrs. French spent two years teaching Latin and German in the high schools of New Jersey. In 1914 she journeyed to Idaho, where she taught in high schools for ten years. The summers of her years in Idaho were wisely spent doing graduate work at the University of California and the University of Idaho in order to attain a Master's degree in education.

It was also in Idaho that Mrs. French met and married Frank V. French, principal of Midrale Schools. They have one daughter, Faye Elizabeth, who also began her school life in Oley. Mrs. French is the grandmother of three lovely grandchildren.

For thirty years, Mr. and Mrs. French lived in Spokane, Washington. Upon her husband's retirement, he and Mrs. French moved to Berkeley, California, where they are living today. She has held offices in the Cultina and Women's City-Clubs and belongs to the American Association of University Women.

Looking into the past, we can see what the classes have done that have gone before us. Let us hope that we too can be an asset to the alumni of Oley High School.
